

At its heart, American Barbecue is cooking low & slow, over indirect heat, from burning charcoal & smoking timbers such as Hickory, Pecan, Apple, Cherry & Plum.

From the beefy Barbecue of Texas, to the pork & piquant sauces of the Carolinas, for over 4 centuries the regions of the United States each developed their own unique style of Barbecue. And they still argue endlessly about whose is best.

Here at Bluegrass, we unite the best of local produce, with techniques developed over centuries & recipes honed over four generations to take you on a Barbecue journey through the Deep South.

It's our pleasure to share with you what has been our passion for decades.

So sit back, relax, and get ready to Barbecue!
